Mr. D. H. Holborn and wife, of 126 Wiloughby avenue, returned from Suffolk yesterday, where the former's father, Mr. E. R. Holborn, was buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Rev. W. T. Green presiding at the funeral in the morning.

Mr. Holborn, as was announced Sunday, was found dead in bed at his home, in Brambleton, Saturday morning. He had made many friends during his sojourn there. The only one of the family now living is his son, who resides in this ward.

Mrs. Temple Hargis, of Dinwiddie county, is visiting relatives and friends at Mr. Denney's, on North Park avenue.

Mrs. Victoria Coleman, of Pittsylvania county, is expected at her daughter, Mrs. George Hargis's, on North Park avenue, to-day. She will be accompanied by her son, Tony, who came to make their home in Brambleton.

FOR A CENTRAL BODY

Prospects of a Combination of Commercial Organizations of Norfolk.

TWO HAVE ALREADY ACTED FAVORABLY

Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and Wholesale Grocers' Association Endorse Amalgamation—Mr. Wiles Tells About the Need of One Body.

The movement among the members of all the commercial organizations of this city looking to their consolidation into one strong central body is growing in strength. As announced in yesterday's Virginia the scheme contemplates the union of the Business Men's Association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and the Wholesale Grocers' Association, provided these organizations individually and collectively endorse the plan.

The various bodies have taken hold of the scheme and made the initial steps toward its consummation by the appointment of one member from each body to act as a member of a sort of committee of arrangements to prepare the details which are to be laid before each of the commercial bodies for ratification.

Mr. William H. Wiles, of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, who is taking a leading part in the scheme, was seen yesterday. He said that the plan is as yet largely in embryo, and that, therefore, nothing can as yet be positively stated. It is not at all certain, he said, that all the organizations will come in, but he thinks most of them will. The plan will have to be finally approved by the directors of the Business Men's Association, which being regarded as the strongest commercial body in the city, the other associations will have to be engrafted upon it.

If consummated at all, the plan will require only a few weeks to become operative. The Wholesale Grocers' Association has already adopted it and Monday evening the board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association took favorable action.

The idea, as expressed by Mr. Wiles, is to have here in Norfolk a strong commercial organization, which shall be representative of the interests of the city, for a central body can do so much better work than now being done.

"The Business Men's Association," he said, "is largely a social body, the Chamber of Commerce collects valuable statistics, the Wholesale Grocers' Association furnishes its members the market reports, while the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is pre-eminently a kicking body. I am president of that organization, and coming from me it is a somewhat beautiful to say that this association has in the past, however, and still stands ready to fight by petition or legal procedure any discrimination against the interests of this port."

"Our desire is," he continued, "to embody all the separate bodies now working for the protection and advancement of the port's interests in the one central organization, which we propose to call the Norfolk Commercial Association. Norfolk people have got to come together in the broad plane of mutual protection, and not individual aggrandizement, on the basis that what benefits the many, will in the end benefit all."

"Of course we expect to encounter opposition. We have already done so. There is the matter of increased cost of maintaining such a large association as we propose, and there are other considerations which will be used to obstruct us. But on the whole, I think the prospect for a realization of the plan is not discouraging."

A Truthful Statement.

An excellent and invaluable remedy, for the cure of cough, cold and hoarseness, is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and Mr. Jas. Hadfield, 350 West St., New York City, verifies this statement. He writes: "Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a most excellent remedy for cough, cold and hoarseness, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all who require such a valuable household medicine." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is sold everywhere for 25 cents.

Terrible Volcanic Eruption.

Mount Popocatepetl in Mexico, a volcano which was supposed to be extinct, has broken out again with terrific violence. The volcano has been smoldering for some time, and the eruption has been attended by fire, smoke and lava. There have been no direct evidences from the City of Mexico, but private reports from the vicinity of the volcano indicate that the eruption is taking active measures for the relief of families made destitute by the eruption. OUR HOLIDAY JUBILEE WEEK

Before Christmas. We want to have a word with those who will to-day or this entire week, make a great many purchases for Christmas. Those who habitually devote Saturday to making purchases, have to-day and the balance of this week. The additional task of considering what they have to buy for Christmas gifts. You will not, through neglect your usual buying for the family, but you will have to make your money go further than ever, which is the very reason why you should examine carefully every statement in these columns, as well as carry in your minds the unpublished fact—an unwritten law, so to speak—that we've always a great many more values and bargains equally great that never get into print—maybe there won't be a single thing printed in these columns to-day that you are especially anxious to obtain. It will happen thus sometimes; but they will be read by you carefully, because whatever we print carries the weight of interest for every man, woman and child. All our energies, like yours, are devoted at this time to Christmas goods, as well as regular merchandise demands of everyday life, and in both senses we are ready to do more toward helping you to get good value for the least outlay than ever before. We are open late every night this week—quite late—busy as we can be, selling more goods than ever—giving better values—and asking lower prices than ever.
